Voices of Courage
TV • RADIO • PODCAST

1. Have I already been a guest on other shows?

Let's face it, you wouldn't have wanted your first TV interview to be with Oprah during her prime, or your first radio interview with Howard Stern during his. The podcasters featured within these pages are the true icons of the podcasting world. You have ONE shot to get it right. Mess it up and not only will you never be invited back to their show, given that the world of podcasters is tight, word will spread about your appearance and the odds of being invited onto others' shows will be dramatically reduced.

Recommendation: Cut your teeth on shows with significantly less reach before reaching out for those featured in this Directory who are in the upper echelons of the game.

2. Have I already added value for the person I'm reaching out to in a meaningful way?

Adding value, first and foremost, means giving without the expectation of reciprocation. It means that you genuinely want the beneficiary to reap measurable reward from your efforts. And, it means that you have a clear understanding of the positive outcome you envision for them as a result of the time, energy and/or resources you have invested. Adding value takes myriad forms. For example, you can volunteer at one of their live events, share their social media posts, introduce them to someone you know who they've publicly expressed an interest in meeting, help promote their book or, perhaps, refer a client or student to them to take advantage of their offerings.

Recommendation: Research what the podcaster's current "currency" is and identify ways that you can help them achieve their desired objective... and then do it.

3. Do I have my own show, or a substantial online presence, and have I already connected with, featured, or had a podcaster on my show?

When seeking to connect with podcasters, it is certainly easier to do so if you're an influencer in your own right, have existing relationships with other podcasters and/or have a platform that rivals theirs. Few, however, will meet one, let alone all three, of these criteria. There is, however, an easy solution. Rather than wait for someone to come to your door and 'anoint' you as being ready to get onto the influencer playing field, take matters into your own hands and start embodying the character traits, and replicating the actions, of influencers you admire.

Recommendation: Become clear on the people you are most compelled to serve, launch your own podcast and begin building your own tribe of loyal fans, followers and subscribers.

4. Have I made my presence felt in their community?

Believe it or not, most podcasters do actually read the comments posted on their blog/social media posts and take notice of the re-tweets, mentions, likes, shares and other engagement activities. They are especially appreciative when one member of their community helps another by taking the time to provide thoughtful answers to questions submitted or share tools and resources they have found to be effective and can help shorten others' learning curves.

Recommendation: Invest time on a consistent basis to engage with the community of the podcaster you'd like to develop a relationship with, make your presence felt (without stalking or being creepy!) and freely share your knowledge and expertise.

5. Do I know this person, their interests, likes, dislikes and have a solid affinity for them?

Before reaching out for a podcaster, make sure that you have clarity on their story, belief system, dislikes, focus and how they serve their tribe. Most importantly, be sure that you actually like them. It's easy to become enamored with how much reach a podcaster has. Do not let this alter your standards or integrity. Connect only with those who you would feel comfortable bringing home to meet mom. :)

Recommendation: Download and listen to a minimum of FIVE episodes from the podcasters you might want to connect with before doing so.

If you follow this strategy, you will inevitably reap meaningful benefit. If you choose to shortcut this suggested process and start sending out rapid-fire emails, consider yourself warned. You may not realize your desired results... and you may burn bridges that cannot be rebuilt.

I have been a guest on over 500 shows in the past three years including appearances on Click Funnels Funnel Hacker Radio, The Go-Giver podcast, Mixergy, Foundr Magazine's podcast and many, many others.

Most importantly, and as you can learn in my free Profiting From Podcasts 4-part video training series, I have been able to convert this NO-COST visibility into over 100,000 leads and SERIOUS revenue.

However, I can tell you from experience (I've been podcasting since 2009) that you absolutely, positively should NOT email the podcasters in this Directory with your pitch... yet! Why? Because, the majority of podcasters featured receive THOUSANDS of pitches every month and the odds of getting booked from a cold email are almost nil. They'll hit the delete key on your pitch faster than Apple will slow down your device with its new 'update'.

Is it possible to get booked from a cold email? Of course. Will it happen? It's HIGHLY unlikely. So, what is an aspiring podcast guest to do? Learn how to pitch the right way and develop REAL relationships with the podcasters whose shows you want to appear on before making the 'ask'.

And, the FASTEST, easiest and most cost-effective way to develop real relationships with today's leading podcasters is to come to our one-of-a-kind event, The NewMedia Summit.

The New Media Summit is the ONLY three-day conference dedicated to not only teaching you how to leverage and monetize the power of new media but, also, it's the ONLY event that gathers together 40 of the world's top podcasters and provides dedicated time for an intimate group of 150 attendees to pitch them... and get booked on the spot!

(Fun fact: EVERYONE who comes to The New Media Summit gets booked on shows!)

We hold The Summit multiple times per year and always sell out. For details on our next conference, please visit www.NewMediaSummit.net. As you'll see, tickets are on sale now for $2,997... and it's worth EVERY dime (check out the testimonials from past attendees on the site).

However, if you register for our Profiting From Podcasts training while the enrollment window is open, (click HERE to find out if it is – if not, please add your name to the 'notification' list and we'll let you know FIRST when we're open again for new clients) we'll INCLUDE the following bonuses for you:

- One $2,997 ticket to The New Media Summit
- Six pre-event, LIVE online training sessions to get you ready for The Summit
- A professionally designed Media One Sheet
- A brand new podcast channel created FOR YOU (we'll take care of the tech!)
- Our detailed 'Launch YOUR Podcast' online training
- Lifetime listing on PerfectPodcastGuest.com
- And, more!

Simply stated, this is THE MOST comprehensive training available for learning how to leverage AND MONETIZE the power of podcasting, both as a host and as a guest.

(And, if you want to launch your own show FAST, keep an eye out for details on our unique two-day, Launch Your Podcast intensive. You'll join us IN-PERSON for two full days and, by the end of the second night, your podcast will be up and running!)

My system works. It works for me, it works for my clients and it will absolutely work for you too.

I look forward to teaching you what I know and helping you connect with the world's leading podcasters who are looking for guests JUST LIKE YOU to feature on their shows.

Steve Olsher
